

What's been going on in January

First of all, we'd like to wish to you all a Happy New Year - may 2024 be healthy, happy and prosperous for you.

We have all come back refreshed and ready to go - even though January can be a long, dark month. We're working hard to complete customer orders and are getting started on two big projects.

It's a big month for our Production Manager, Matt and our Senior Mould Maker, James. Both will have been with us 20 years - well done!

This month also sees the birthdays of one of our Pre-Cast Operatives, Matt; and James our Senior Mould Maker. Bacon butties will be on the celebration menu again!

20 Years at ACP

20 years ago this month, two young men arrived for their first day of work at Attlebridge Concrete Products Ltd. Little did they know, they would still be there 20 years later!

Matt Thurlow and James Symonds both started out their journey as Manual Labourers. Starting at grass roots level, led them to gain invaluable knowledge of the casting process and the vagaries of working with concrete. What they know now, isn't worth knowing!

Over the years, along with the experience they were gaining, they took on more responsibility and grew within the company.

Matt is now our Production Manager and James is our Senior Mould Maker.

They are invaluable members of the Team and we couldn't do what we do without them!!!

Sir Antony Gormley Exhibition

Back in November we told you about an upcoming project with Houghton Hall, where we would be making plinths to support sculptures in an exhibition. We are now delighted to say that the exhibition entitled 'Time Horizon' is by Sir Antony Gormley; whose works include The Angel of the North.

Our moulds have now arrived for the plinths, and we will keep you updated on our progress with this exciting project.
